About

I am a web developer with 2 solid years of professional developer experience behind me. I am looking for a role in an enthusiastic team developing the latest and greatest products, where I can continue to grow my skills and have fun doing it!

After acquiring a Bachelor in Digital Media, followed with 6 months of front-end developer work experience, I was hired as a junior web developer at Talent2 where I worked for 2 years learning and building up my skillset. Upon finishing my 2nd year I decided to pack up and see the world by going travelling around Europe for 6 months. My travels have now come to an end and I am keen to get back into the world of web development.

Professional Experience

Junior Web Developer

Talent2 - Adelaide

2 years (1/7/2013 - 3/7/2015) | Full Time

At Talent2, I was part of the learning content team developing online learning content and websites. We worked with big companies such as The Commonwealth Bank of Australia, Westpac, Optus, The Depart of Immigration and Border Protection and Graincorp just to name a few. I worked on projects for all of these clients, plus more, creating e-learning websites that were used by many of the client's employees.

A majority of my work was developing websites with HTML or WYSIWYGs, and writing Javascript to implement new features and functionality. As the clients often used a wide variety of systems, I did a lot of cross-browser development and development for older browsers such as IE6, 7 and 8. I developed content which met with WCAG AA standards for people with visual disabilities, and also created multi-language websites.

Junior Front-end Web Developer

N0prisoners - Adelaide

9/11/2011 - 31/5/2012 | Work Placement

N0prisoners is a company in Adelaide that creates and designs webapps, mobile apps, websites, logos and company branding. While working there, I was taught front-end and web development, where I helped with writing CSS, HTML and Javascript for multiple projects. This included using Bootstrap and JQuery. I also designed icons, and went through idea generation for company branding, such as the logo, colour palette and type choice.

Education

Bachelor of Creative Arts - Digital Media (2012)

Flinders University, South Australia

Other Interests

When I'm not working or developing, you can find me playing gridiron, at family gatherings, having epic LANs with my mates, reading Horus Heresy novels, and a whole bunch more.
